Summary

Welcome to my profile! I'm Thapelo Magqazana, an enthusiastic and detail-oriented individual on a mission to make a mark in the world of software development. My journey began at WeThinkCode_, where I underwent an immersive 18-month coding bootcamp. This transformative experience emphasized peer-to-peer learning, self-direction, and real-world application of skills, equipping me to add immediate value to any software development team.
